

CHAPTER 4

RESOURCES

Chapter IV Resources

This chapter includes biographical information about the authors, and a master joint-use agreement between the City of Roseville and the Dry Creek Elementary School District. Other joint use agreements are available from the CCS Partnership.

A form for each exercise in the workbook is included for duplication.

Biographical Information

CCS Partnership

CCS promotes the development of public policies that build and preserve communities by encouraging local collaborative efforts among cities, counties, schools, community-based nonprofit organizations, and business and civic leaders. The CCS Partnership is dedicated to improving the conditions of California's children, families and communities through increased coordination and efficiency of local services among cities, counties and schools. The Partnership believes that:

- Local government matters and has the most potential to make a real difference.
- Our city, county and school institutions and our work is interdependent.
- Cooperation and collaboration at the state and local level add power to the work of each participant.
- We share "community" as a common constituency which binds us together.
- State associations must model the actions and behaviors we are trying to instill at a local level.

Don Benninghoven, Executive Director

Lynn DeLapp, Deputy Director

Liisa Lawson, Communications Analyst

CCS Partnership

(916) 323-6011

1100 K Street, Suite 201

Sacramento, CA 95814

www.ccspartnership.org

McKeever/Morris,

a division of Parsons Brinckerhoff

Quade and Douglas, Inc.

McKeever/Morris, a division of Parsons Brinckerhoff, is a multi-disciplinary planning organization that specializes in managing projects involving multi-jurisdictional coordination. Their award winning work in California, Portland, Oregon, and around the country has focused on developing innovative methods to promote effective cooperative planning for facilities, infrastructure and land use. Their publications include the Forum on Cooperative Urban Services Governance Handbook and the PLAnning for Community Energy, Economic and Environmental Sustainability (PLACE³S) Guidebook. They manage projects; write policy, facility and land use plans; organize conferences; provide facilitation, mediation and community involvement services; prepare land use codes and secure land use permits for public, non-profit and private clients. Mr. Mike McKeever, AICP, and Kimberly Iboshi Sloop have successfully managed several collaborative planning projects with school districts, counties, cities and special districts.

Biographical Information, (cont.)

Mike McKeever

3840 Rosin Court, Suite 200

Sacramento, CA 95834

Telephone: (916) 567-2557

E-Mail: mckeever@pbworld.com

Kimberly Iboshi Sloop

400 SW 6th Avenue, Suite 802

Portland, OR 97204

Telephone: (503) 478-2358

E-Mail: iboshisloop@pbworld.com

Ken Testa

Ken Testa is an elementary school assistant principal in the Clovis Unified School District. He served as a high school teacher (6 years), a baseball, football, and soccer coach for twelve years, and three years as an intermediate school athletic director. For the past seven years, his administrative experience includes elementary and intermediate school assistant principal duties. Mr. Testa has taught in the Health Science Department at California State University, Fresno since 1993. As part of his doctoral program at the University of La Verne (anticipated completion, May 2000), Mr. Testa has completed a dissertation study on the strategic practices utilized in the development of joint-use agreements.

Ken Testa

1809 East Quincy Avenue

Fresno, CA. 93720

Telephone (home): (559) 298-3585

Telephone (work): (559) 327-7900

E-Mail: kent@csufresno.edu.

Biographical Information, (cont.)

The James Irvine Foundation

The James Irvine Foundation is a private foundation dedicated to enhancing the social, economic and physical quality of life throughout California, and to enriching the State's intellectual and cultural environment. For more information, visit the James Irvine Foundation Website at www.irvine.org