

Promoting Good Government at the Local Level

Welcoming California Learning Network (WCLN) Sharing Lessons from Multi-Sector Immigrant Welcoming Efforts

Thursday March 28th, 2013
12:00 noon - 2:00 pm
Maple Hall Community Center
One Alvarado Square, San Pablo, CA
---RSVP Requested---

You are invited to participate in a learning exchange about the planning process and ongoing implementation of multi-sector immigrant welcoming efforts in Redwood City and Oakley

This discussion is an opportunity to learn about:

- Multi-sector efforts with local officials as substantial partners that respond to demographic changes and help build stronger communities.
- WCLN learning exchanges on promising practices identified in the national Welcoming Cities Project.

This meeting is organized by the Institute for Local Government, the 501(c)3 nonprofit research and education affiliate of the League of California Cities and the California State Association of Counties (CSAC). The Institute's public engagement program supports effective and inclusive public engagement in California cities and counties and partnered with Welcoming America to support the launch of the first two welcoming initiatives in California

Welcoming America is a national organization with affiliates in fifteen states that works to promote mutual respect and cooperation between foreign-born and U.S.-born Americans. Welcoming Tennessee, the first Welcoming campaign - and model for all subsequent campaigns - won the Migration Policy Institute's E Pluribus Unum award for exceptional immigrant integration initiatives in 2009.
