SUSTAINABILITY CASE STORY

Technology Inspires Kids and Strengthens Safe Routes to School Program in Davis

The City of Davis, situated about 11 miles west of Sacramento, has adopted an innovative system that is inspiring kids to bike and walk to school. The Active4me program, a collaborative effort among parents, advocates and city staff, tracks kids' miles to and from school and notifies their parents via email or text that they have arrived. The program is providing reassurance to concerned parents and allowing families, schools and the city to track students' transportation practices.
